The course is an introduction to Computational Finance. Topics include simple models capturing uncertainty and randomness; tree models; Monte Carlo simulation; implementation in Matlab; volatility modeling; credit risk; risk measures. We will also introduce financial products such as options and discuss how mis-use of complex derivatives contributed to the recent financial crisis.